

Terms of Services

1. Upon enrollment, you are entitled to a complimentary two-day trial period. The trial can be taken by the same teacher or two different teachers. Subsequently, payment of fees is required to continue classes.
2. The Quran Academy retains the discretion to discontinue classes if monthly fees are not settled. However, if payment is delayed due to unforeseen circumstances, prior notification to the academy is necessary.
3. In the event of a teacher's unavailability during scheduled class times, arrangements will be made for a makeup session on an alternative day.
4. Should a student miss classes for any reason, the decision to schedule makeup sessions rests solely with the teacher.
5. Class durations are typically twenty minutes, subject to variation based on lesson complexity and urgency.
6. Any disrespectful behavior towards teachers or staff members will result in immediate expulsion.
7. The Quran Academy reserves the right to substitute teachers as necessary.
8. Holidays during the last ten days of Ramadan, Eid days, Pakistan Day (23rd March), and Independence Day (14th August) are observed for both students and teachers. Fees remain applicable during these holidays.
9. The Quran Academy reserves the right to annually review and adjust fees at its discretion.
10. A certificate of completion is provided at the end of the course, although its acceptance by private or government organizations is not guaranteed.
11. The Quran Academy reserves the right to modify its terms and conditions as deemed necessary.
